Low Cost, Low Altitude Aerial Delivery System (LCLA ADS):

The LCLA Resupply Load is a low cost aerial resupply load. It is designed to resist impact, keeping contents intact from heights of 150-ft to 500-ft Above Ground Level (AGL). The system is an expendable type, one time use item, which is user friendly – easy to rig, transport, and deliver. The LCLA must be inspected by a qualified parachute rigger, jumpmaster or by an LCLA certified individual.

The Low Cost, Low Altitude Resupply Load (LCLA) training is now offered as part of all Resident SLIC Courses. Units requesting on-site SLIC Courses must inform the SLIC office in advance, if they want LCLA training.

Adding LCLA training will require students to receive familiarization with aerial delivery terms, materials, and procedures. They will receive presentations that cover nomenclature, descriptions, and capabilities of the LCLA, to include the authorized parachutes and inspection requirements.

Students also receive hands-on instruction for rigging the LCLA with a 35-Foot, Diameter, Cross Parachute (rated for loads 80-150 pounds) and the Triple Cross parachute system (clustering of three 35-Foot, Diameter, Cross parachutes rated for loads 125-425 pounds). The final instruction covers aircraft loading, hookup procedures, time warnings and deployment. All aircraft actions are conducted in a UH-60 and CH-47 mockup at the Sling Load Branch. Aircraft scheduled to support the sling load operation will be used for this training at on-site locations.

The equipment listed below is required for LCLA training in on-site SLIC Courses.

Note: Equipment must be on-hand and ready for inspection the Friday prior to training week.
